This ground-floor apartment offers a rare combination of privacy, space, and a prime location within a small residential complex of just 12 units in a privileged area of Paphos.

The property comes with a separate title deed and exclusive rights to generous outdoor areas, enhancing its appeal for both personal use and future development potential.

Occupying the southeastern part of the ground floor, the apartment features a well-designed layout comprising an open-plan living, dining, and kitchen area, three bedrooms, and a shower room. Patio doors
